The screenshot shows the Microsoft Security Essentials interface. The window title is "Microsoft Security Essentials" and the status is "PC status: Protected". The "History" tab is selected, showing a list of detected items. The first item is "HackTool:Win32/Keygen" with a medium alert level, detected on 7/11/2014 at 12:33 PM, and is currently quarantined. Below the table, there is a detailed view for the selected item, including its category ("Tool"), description ("This program has potentially unwanted behavior."), and recommended action ("Permit this detected item only if you trust the program or the software publisher."). At the bottom right, there are buttons for "Remove all" and "Allow item".

View the items that were detected as potentially harmful and the actions that you took on them:

- Quarantined items
Items that were prevented from running but not removed from your PC.
- Allowed items
Items that you've allowed to run on your PC.
- All detected items
Items that were detected on your PC.
